

Over-the-Counter List of Off-Patent, Off-Exclusivity Drugs without an Approved Generic

To improve transparency and encourage the development and submission of abbreviated new drug applications (ANDAs) for drugs with limited competition, FDA is publishing a list, consistent with the methodology described below, of approved and active over-the-counter (OTC) new drug application (NDA) drug products that are off-patent and off-exclusivity, and for which the FDA has not approved an ANDA referencing that NDA drug product. This list only includes OTC drug products that are approved and currently marketed under an NDA and does not include OTC drug products covered by an OTC monograph, as those products are not approved through the NDA or ANDA process. For more information about drug products covered by OTC monographs, please review the information available from FDA's website related to the OTC Drug Monograph Process.

Part I of the list identifies those OTC drug products for which FDA could immediately accept an ANDA without prior discussion.

Part II identifies OTC drug products for which ANDA development or approval may raise potential legal, regulatory, or scientific issues that should be addressed with the Agency prior to considering submission of an ANDA.

The Appendix identifies OTC NDA drug products that were removed from Part I or Part II of the list because one or more ANDAs referencing such NDA drug products have been approved since the previous list publication.

Sponsors wishing to pursue approval of ANDAs referencing drug products identified in Part II of this list generally should submit an initial inquiry to the Office of Generic Drugs at genericdrugs@fda.hhs.gov. Sponsors may be referred to the Office of New Drugs under certain circumstances, for example, if the product is not eligible for submission or approval as an ANDA but may be considered for submission under another abbreviated approval pathway. Sponsors should identify the product's established name and NDA number in any inquiry.

- For some products in Part II of the list, submission and/or approval of an ANDA via the 505(j) pathway may not be appropriate; section 505(b)(2) of the FD&C Act may be an appropriate abbreviated approval pathway for such products.
- For other products in Part II of the list, there are regulatory or scientific complexities that may be addressed with additional information exchange between FDA and a prospective ANDA sponsor (e.g., there is no applicable product-specific guidance or the product is considered complex).

We have excluded any NDA drug products that have been approved within the past year or were switched from prescription to OTC status within the last year, as it generally is too soon for an ANDA referencing such products to have been approved.

FDA intends to update the list every six months. The current methodology for creating and reviewing the list is set forth at the bottom of the list. We welcome suggestions concerning the methodology, as well as suggestions for any OTC NDA drug products that should be added to (or, in limited cases, removed from) the list. Please direct correspondence to genericdrugs@fda.hhs.gov, providing your name, e-mail address, phone number, NDA number, established name, and dosage form of any NDA drug product that should be added to or, in limited cases, removed from the list.

Methodology¹

1. The list is based on the Orange Book Data Files, accessed October 14, 2022.
2. The list includes Orange Book-listed drug products that are marketed as over-the-counter drug products.² The list generally does not differentiate between different strengths of a given drug product. However, we have included a drug product of multiple strengths on the list if there is not an approved ANDA for one or more of the strengths (even if there is an approved ANDA for one or more other strengths). The Agency has identified the corresponding NDA numbers for drug products included on the list to assist applicants with identification of the correct reference listed drug (RLD).
3. A given drug product is included on the list if:
 - a. There is at least one active and approved NDA for the drug product,^{3,4} and
 - b. The relevant NDA for the drug product is marketed as an OTC drug product, and
 - c. There are no approved ANDAs for the drug product,^{5,6} and
 - d. There are no unexpired patents or exclusivities listed in the Orange Book for the drug product.⁷
4. Each drug product and corresponding NDA number is then placed on either Part I or Part II of the list based on the following criteria:
 - a. Part I of the list identifies those drug products for which FDA could immediately accept an ANDA without prior discussion with the Agency.
 - b. Part II identifies drug products for which development and submission of an ANDA could involve potential legal, regulatory, or scientific issues that should be addressed with the Agency prior to considering submission of an ANDA.

² Products approved under NDAs that are marketed as over-the-counter drugs are listed in the Orange Book with a marketing status of "OTC" or "Over-the-counter." Drug products marketed under an OTC monograph are not listed in Orange Book and are not included on this list.

⁴ Drug products with only approved and Orange Book-listed ANDAs but no Orange Book-listed NDAs are not included on the list.

⁵ Drug products with an approved but discontinued ANDA are not included on the list.

⁶ If a drug product is available under an OTC monograph and an OTC NDA, but there are no approved ANDAs for the drug product available under the NDA and the product otherwise meets the criteria for inclusion, the drug product will be included on the list.

⁷ Drug products that have at least one Orange Book-listed patent or exclusivity are not included on the list.
