Suggestions

1. Are there future plans to align the definition of operations among the various requirements?
2. Are there considerations being given to limit the focus to yearly volumes for medically necessary drug products?
3. Has there been any consideration to extend the February due date to later in the year?

Summary

Was it difficult?

Did it test our systems?

Did it stretch our understanding of our internal systems and FDA requirements?

THE END

A photograph of nine wooden blocks arranged in a row on a wooden surface, spelling out the words "thank you". The blocks are light-colored wood with black lowercase letters. The background is a warm, out-of-focus bokeh of yellow and orange lights.
