 Mathematical Statistician
 Department of Health and Human Services (HHS)
 Food and Drug Administration (FDA)
 Center for Biologics Evaluation and Research (CBER)
 Office of Biostatistics and Pharmacovigilance (OBPV)
 Division of Biostatistics (DB)

Summary:

The Food and Drug Administration is the regulatory, scientific, public health, and consumer protection agency responsible for ensuring that all human and animal drugs, and medical devices are safe and effective; that cosmetics, foods, food additives, drugs and medicated feeds for food producing animals, and radiation emitting devices are safe; and that all such products marketed in the U.S. are adequately, truthfully and informatively labeled and safely and properly stored, transported, manufactured packaged and regulated.

The mission of the Center for Biologics Evaluation and Research (CBER) is to protect and enhance the public health through the regulation of biological and related products including blood, vaccines, allergenics, tissues, and cellular and gene therapies.

The Office of Biostatistics and Pharmacovigilance (OBPV) provides comprehensive statistical, pharmacovigilance, and epidemiological evaluation of data submitted to the Center in support of regulatory requirements. OBPV evaluates the safety and efficacy of the spectrum of CBER products throughout their entire lifecycle, from preclinical to post-marketing. OBPV scientific disciplines include experts in epidemiology, statistics, medicine, risk analysis, public health, genomics, and other scientific areas.

The Division of Biostatistics (DB) develops and evaluates statistical methodologies for analyzing preclinical, clinical, laboratory, real world, and epidemiological data and collaborates with scientists in the Center and across the FDA on original research projects of common interest. DB provides statistical expertise and insight in the development of standards and guidance, in designing studies, and analyzing and interpreting the results. DB performs a comprehensive statistical review and recommends an appropriate action of licensing applications (biologics license application (BLA), premarket approval (PMA), new drug application (NDA)) and supplements for safety and efficacy, in coordination with other Center components.
