

FDA Staff Manual Guides, Volume I – Organizations and Functions

Department of Health and Human Services

Food and Drug Administration

Center for Drug Evaluation and Research

Office of Medical Policy

Office of Medical Policy Initiatives

Division of Medical Policy Development

Effective Date: December 14, 2018

1. Division of Medical Policy Development (DCDHBA).

- A. Directly responsible for the development of medical policy pertaining to the drug development, drug approval, bioresearch monitoring, human subject protection and post market surveillance processes in collaboration with appropriate program areas and coordinating committees. Develops issue papers, guidances, regulations, and operating procedures
- B. Provides advice and assistance to FDA staff and external constituents concerning implementation or application of new and existing medical policies and procedures
- C. Collaborates with the Office of Regulatory Policy to ensure timely and efficient clearance and dissemination of new and revised policy documents.

2. Authority and Effective Date.

The functional statements for the Division of Medical Policy Development were approved by the Secretary of Health and Human Services and effective on December 14, 2018.

Department of Health and Human Services
Food and Drug Administration
Center for Drug Evaluation and Research
Office of Medical Policy
Office of Medical Policy Initiative
Division of Medical Policy Development

Staff Manual Guide 1266.121
Organizations and Functions
Effective Date: December 14, 2018

The following is the Department of Health and Human Services, Food and Drug Administration, Center for Drug Evaluation and Research, Office of Medical Policy, Office of Medical Policy Initiatives, Division of Medical Policy Development organization structure depicting all the organizational structures reporting to the Director.

Division of Medical Policy Development (DCDHBA)