

Preparing Electronic NDC Labeler Code and Drug Establishment Registration Submissions in SPL Format

Version 1.0

Preface

- This document provides basic instructions for using Structured Product Labeling (SPL) Xforms to create NDC Labeler Code and Establishment Registration SPL files. The SPL Xforms is an SPL document authoring tool which can be used to create SPL files.
- This document focuses on using free software provided by FDA, however, a number of vendors have created other options for creating and submitting SPL files ranging from user friendly SPL editing software to service providers who create the SPL files for you. These options can be found at the following web site:
 - <http://spl-work-group.wikispaces.com/Vendors>
- More information about SPL (including additional SPL training materials specific to your submission type,) is available on the FDA's SPL web page:
 - <http://www.fda.gov/ForIndustry/DataStandards/StructuredProductLabeling/default.htm>

SPL Xforms Issues

Trouble Shooting

- To avoid, Internet Explorer running slow warning. For some operations, internet explorer may give a warning message - "A script on this page is causing Internet Explorer to run slowly..." To avoid this message, create a new file and copy below 3 lines in the file.
Windows Registry Editor Version 5.00
[HKEY_CURRENT_USER\Software\Microsoft\Internet Explorer\Styles]
"MaxScriptStatements"=dword:00000000
Save the file with .reg extension (eg. SetMaxScriptForIE.reg). Execute the file and try form operations after restarting Internet Explorer. Note that this setting is needed to be done only once.
- Note on performance for first time use: While using the forms for the very first time, the forms may take some time to load and certain operations can be slow. This is due to one time initialization cost for the forms.
